

INTRODUCTION

Those who have worked with and know our speaker have called him, “Incredible... Unstoppable...Without Equal”. Terry Walters is a living example that adversity is inevitable. However, defeat is optional. Terry is all about taking personal adversity and using it for good. As a cumulative grief and loss survivor, his passion is in helping people “unstick their story”. He helps them move beyond burnout, major changes, and adversities so they can transition more quickly. He shows them how to unlock their potential, accelerate their growth to create a dynamic life, business, or ministry that they love. He is a leadership and career coach, consultant, and podcaster who reaches a wide audience.

Please help me welcome, Terry Walters!
